THORNY BUSINESS

Neil Eiszele could be described as a thorn between two roses as his wife, Marie, and Rosemary Nichols, together with Neil, took the pruning shears to the overgrown rose bushes at the Club. An excellent job – thank you for your work.

Epilepsy Association is looking for volunteers for their button day on Friday 4th July, 2008. Contact Martin Howell on 6224.4545 or mobile 0407.455936 if you can help.

OFF THE GREEN

“If Collingwood beat Geelong I will go nude on the green!”

What an exciting opening to the season as the committee may decide it would be more conducive to the days when the weather is warmer and the attendance greater. Now who was that Geelong supporter??

One Saturday night we had a big function at the Club and when it was finished we all went to our cars. Marie Eiszele opened the car door and was about to step in when she realised it was not Neil in the driver's seat – to all intents and purposes she was going home with Ben! Marie had forgotten they had parked in Turnbull's car park. Oops!
